

SPORTING NEWS AND NOTES.

Members of College Teams Must Now Be Undergraduates.

Corbett Gets Heated and Says He Hates No Living Man.

They did it up brown, did these delegates to the Intercollegiate Football Association convention, when Yale, Princeton and Western voted for the adoption of the restrictive clause, forbidding members of athletic teams to the academic departments of the various colleges. University of Pennsylvania battled uselessly in protest of the new rule, but the odds were overwhelmingly against her and she was laid out.

So, as things stand now, the only men eligible for places in the crowd, the eleven or the ball nine are those undergraduates who are taking the regular course, as provided for in the college curriculum. Post graduates who may have taken their A. B. and gone over to the Medical or Law School for an M. D. or J. D. are by the latest action of the Football Association precluded from a position on any athletic team.

The variety of Pennsylvania is undoubtedly affected the greatest by this clause, for almost all her athletes are students in some of the professional departments of the college. Indeed, the number of scholars in the college which is extremely small, and she would have no sort of a chance to make a decent graft upon them to even compete a possible.

"Pennsy" regards the new legislation as aimed directly against her, and charges the college with "selling out" for the sake of the money. She is in a position to make a decent graft upon them to even compete a possible.

The Pennsylvania boys' ultimatum hasn't been declared yet. Her only course seems to be to withdraw, but such a step is evidently a hard one for her to make, and she is evidently about making a last effort to make a protest against the adoption of the clause, claiming it is unconstitutional, and that protest was called upon the minutes of the meeting.

A regular meeting of the Association will be held in March, and the fight will be renewed at that time. But it certainly looks as if the combination of the new rule and the intelligent is too powerful to be shattered just by this.

"His pompous majesty," Jim Corbett, is settled at the criticisms passed upon him as a fighter, and he is not at all discouraged. He is a "clump" of the world, and he is not at all discouraged. He is a "clump" of the world, and he is not at all discouraged.

All the while the conqueror of once famous John L. Sullivan is making these remarks, he is quietly planning to fight a second round with Sullivan. He is a "clump" of the world, and he is not at all discouraged.

Every indication points to a meeting between these two boxing champions. Sullivan is a "clump" of the world, and he is not at all discouraged.

The Manhattan Athletic Club will hold a special meeting to-morrow night, and the new Board of directors will then be named by the trustees.

Jack McAuliffe's boxing entertainment at the Madison Square Garden next Saturday night ought to be a big draw. Jack's fight with Mike McHugh is the main attraction. Jack is a "clump" of the world, and he is not at all discouraged.

Sports are discussing the probable outcome of the eight-round fracas between Bill Egan, of Haverstraw, and Jake Fitz, of Brooklyn, which is the star attraction of the Varma Boat Club's boxing tournament to-night. The odds are in favor of Egan, but the opinion is that the Brooklynite stands a fair chance of snatching it. Vernon has been in the ring for some time, and seems confident that he will have no trouble in standing off Fitz's running. Vernon declares that Frank Steele did not fight with him at the Manhattan Athletic Club. It was Joe Harmon, of the Pastime Athletic Club, who fought him.

Bill McAuliffe's boxer, W. W. Lewis, of Mahanoy City, Pa., has posted $100 in the "World's" sporting department to find a meeting with either Mike McHugh or Andy Bowen.

Feb. 6, at the Coney Island Athletic Club will see two strolling scraps, when Johnny Griffin and Billy Murphy and Kid Hogan and Billy Lewis will meet. Murphy is a "clump" of the world, and he is not at all discouraged.

The Crescent Athletic Club, of Brooklyn, elected its officers yesterday. C. C. Brown, W. T. O'Brien, C. A. Sherman, E. A. Kelly, W. W. Lewis, C. J. Post, Jr., and A. J. O'Brien.

Stanton Abbott and Sam Baxter fight to-night at a night with Andy Bowen, in the Crescent City Club, New Orleans, for a $100 purse and a side bet of $5,000 each, in May.

Mike Daly will sign articles in Boston to-day for a fight with Andy Bowen, in the Crescent City Club, New Orleans, for a $100 purse and a side bet of $5,000 each, in May.

It looks as if Billy Plummer and George Dixon would be matched at 113 pounds. It would be a dream of a battle.

Jessie Delane, who announces herself as the "champion lady boxer of the world," issued a challenge for a battle with a woman who is a "clump" of the world, and he is not at all discouraged.

Women Must Sleep.

If they only could sleep eight hours every night and one hour every day years would be added to their lives, and:—

Their freshness and beauty would continue to the end.

All derangement of the Uterus or Ovary, Kidney troubles, uterine tumors, irregularity, indigestion, exhaustion, or "displacement" drives the nerves wild with excitement.

Sleep is impossible.

Lydla E. Pinkham's "Vegetable Compound" is the one sure remedy. It has saved thousands, and will save you. It strengthens the womb, removes all pain, and you sleep like a child to awake with the brightness of youth.

Try it.
